The Park Avenue Synagogue Endowment Fund Campaign

The Board of Trustees of the Park Avenue Synagogue has commenced an "Endowment Fund Campaign for the Twenty-First Century" to insure the creative continuity of programs and services for the next 100 years.

For the first time since the 1970's when a capital fundraising drive raised the funds to build the new building—now called the George and Rita Shapiro House—the Board has embarked on a capital campaign to build an appropriate and necessary endowment fund for future generations. "This campaign," said Alan Levine, Chairman of the Board, "will provide an opportunity for many members of the congregation who joined after the new building was dedicated in 1980 to make the same investment in the future that earlier generations did for us." The campaign goal is $4 million and Robert P. Antler, President of Park Avenue Synagogue, said "we are very excited

"Prayers of Ecstasy" Liturgical Music Service Friday, November 21

Park Avenue Synagogue's 54th Annual Friday Evening Liturgical Music Service will take place in the Main Sanctuary at 8 P.M. on Friday, November 21, 1997. Cantor David Lefkowitz and Cantor Nancy Abramson, together with conductor Abraham Kaplan directing the 18-voice Synagogue Concert Choir and with Neil Robinson at the organ, will join their talents in an exciting service of music for the Eve of Shabbat.

Some of the most successful music created in the last half century to celebrate the joy of Shabbat prayers has been brought together to form what promises to be "an experience not to be missed." Composers whose music

N.Y. State Attorney General Dennis Vacco to Address Men's Club Thursday, November 13

The Park Avenue Synagogue Men's Club, together with the Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies, is honored to begin the Men's Club's 50th Anniversary year with an address by New York State Attorney General Dennis C. Vacco. This address, free to all synagogue members will take place at the Men's Club's annual New Members Reception at 7:30 P.M. on Thursday, November 13. In addition, the entire congregation is invited to make reservations for the kosher Chinese buffet dinner which will take place prior to his address, at 7:00 P.M.

The buffet dinner is free for Men's Club members and new Park Avenue Synagogue members and is $10 a person for non-Men's Club members. Please make reservations by calling Josh or Fred at 371-3933.

Attorney General Vacco will speak about recent efforts in his office to benefit consumers and investors, as well as criminal will be included are Aloni, Bernstein, Davidson, Kingsley, Levitt and Robinson.

Ami Aloni was born in Israel and has been unusually successful at writing spirited music for Valley Beth Shalom in Encino Valley, California where he is the music director. Leonard Bernstein's "Hashkivenu" was composed early in his career for Park Avenue Synagogue and premiered in our sanctuary in May, 1945. We shall have the opportunity of singing one of the recent pieces by Cantor Charles Davidson, whose American-style Selichot Service was sung this past September. "Havu Ladonai" (Psalm 29) by Abraham Kaplan was introduced to a thrilled congregation at our Shabbat morning service justice initiatives.

Mr. Vacco was elected New York State's 62nd Attorney General on November 8, 1994, in his first attempt at public office. He is the first Republican to serve in this post since 1978 and the first Attorney General elected from Upstate New York since 1928.

In 1988, President Ronald Reagan appointed Mr. Vacco as U.S. Attorney for the 17-county Western District of New York, making him the youngest U.S. Attorney General in the nation at that time.

He was born in 1952 in the town of Brant, near Buffalo. He holds degrees from both the State University of New York, the Buffalo School of Law and Jurisprudence (1978) and Colgate University (1974).

Mr. Vacco and his wife, Kelly, who is also a lawyer, live in the Buffalo suburb of Hamburg with their sons, Carmen Alexander (Alex) and Connor.

this past April. That prayer is also part of Kabbalat Shabbat, and we shall again have the joy of experiencing Kaplan's magical rhythms and melodies that flow so naturally from the Hebrew text. Gershon Kingsley is truly one of the pioneers of popular American style in the synagogue. His 1969 Sabbath for Today and 1970 Shiru Ladonai for Park Avenue Synagogue, together with a host of other synagogue commissions, are hallmarks of a contemporary approach to Jewish worship that has proven to be extremely influential. Cantor Abraham Levitt's "Receiving the Sabbath" has had acclaimed concert performances with orchestra, and will have excerpts

FROM THE

Rabbi's Desk

Some time ago a four-year old asked me the following question: "How can God be everywhere?" At that moment, I found myself wishing that she had asked someone else her question. Nevertheless, I assured her that it was a terrific question and that we should meet to talk about it.

Prior to our appointment, I consulted three experts in early childhood education and asked each one how he/she would respond to this four-year old's theological question.

One consultant suggested the following: "Simply tell her that there is no single correct way to understand God's whereabouts, that there are certain things that we can't understand no matter how hard we try. God is a mystery - that's what makes God God, and human beings human beings. God can be everywhere. We can't be everywhere."

The second consultant suggested the following: "Show her a leaf, a tree, a plant. Explain that God is in all living things, that God is part of us, of her, of you, of all people. Tell her that we believe that God created all things, and that God is connected to and part of all the things that God created, and that this is what we mean when we say that God is everywhere."

The third consultant suggested the analogy of love. "Ask the child if she loves her parents. If they love her? Ask her how they show their love to her. Then ask her if she still feels their love when they are not around. And, there you go, there's your analogy."

When I finally met with my inquisitive young friend, I highlighted the third approach. I asked her the questions my consultant suggested. "Yes," she said when I asked her if she loved her parents. "Yes," she said when I asked her if they loved her. When I asked her how her parents showed her that they loved her, she said, "They hug and kiss me." "And what about when you are at school, do you still feel your parents' love?" "Yes," she said. "And what about when you are at home, and your parents are out, do you still feel your parents' love?" "Yes," she said again. "So you can't see that love," I said to her, but, you can feel it, you know it's there." She nodded. "Well, it's kind of like that with God," I said.

In the book, Teaching Your Children About God, Rabbi David Wolpe states that "love is not a perfect analogy, because feelings are things that originate inside of us. And God exists outside of us as well." (Wolpe, pg.59-60)

For a four-year old, though, I thought to report that in our initial contacts over the summer we have raised $1 million towards our goal."

With our fiscal strength bolstered, the Endowment Fund will insure the continuity of the vast array of programs and services which contribute so much to our practice of Judaism and to our involvement in the Jewish community. We hope and expect that every one of our member families will join in helping to meet this challenge by making a five-year pledge that is appropriate for them and makes them proud. Wonderful opportunities to name or dedicate programs, chairs and services in honor of or in memory of loved ones are available. This will be our legacy to our children, our grandchildren and to all others who choose Park Avenue Synagogue as the place to develop and express their Judaism in the twenty-first century.

You may call Barrie Modlin, Executive Director, at 369-2600 if you have any questions or want to support the campaign.

A Special Message

To my dear friends at Park Avenue Synagogue:

The outpouring of affection and concern that I have received from this wonderful synagogue is, I am sure, in large part, responsible for my successful spinal surgery and speedy recovery. I can't begin to express my gratitude for all the prayers and good wishes of all my good friends in the clergy and congregation. My heart is filled to overflowing.

May the New Year bring health and joy to all of you.

B'ahava, Susan Heller

A Reminder

Please remember to notify the business office of the synagogue with any changes either in your home or business address and/or home or business telephone number.

this was a good beginning. By the way, when I asked this four-year old how she came up with the idea that God is everywhere, she said, "It's something that my heart told my ears, and that my ears heard."

Tell me, what does your heart tell your ears? And what do your ears hear?

MITZVAH SUNDAY Blood Drive Performs a Mitzvah

Here is a wonderful story about a significant mitzvah (good deed). When a young Long Island mother by the name of Ellen Schweitzer faced scoliosis surgery this summer, she was advised to find extra blood for the surgical procedure. While she was able to supply some of her own blood, she was too anemic to contribute the full amount that her doctors recommended. Moreover, because of her relatively rare blood type, locating donors was not that easy. However, through her friend, who happens to be Susan Vogelstein, Park Avenue Synagogue's librarian, Ellen contacted Mimi Sunkin, captain of Park Avenue Synagogue's Blood Drive. Through Mimi, two donors with the matching blood type were located and one agreed to make a donation for Ellen at the New York City Blood Center. Subsequently, the operation went well and Ellen is fully recovered and two inches taller than she used to be. Her gratitude to Park Avenue Synagogue and its members is profound!

In case you didn't know, giving blood is simple, painless and presents no danger whatsoever to the donor. And giving blood helps save lives! It is also a gift that any one of us may need some time in our life.

Please plan to participate on MITZVAH SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1997. Plan to donate blood to help others in need or to take part in the many opportunities to do good. Volunteer your time, talents, goods; join in the study sessions, workshops and final celebration. There will be activities all day and for all ages. Performing deeds of lovingkindness—DOING A MITZVAH—is what all of us should try to do!

For information or to volunteer, please call Lite Sabin at 628-2863 or Gail Silverman at 534-0652.

presented in this service. Neil Robinson's "Kiddush"—one of the favorites from his 1995 service—will be sung once again.

Plan to attend this wonderful service, together with friends who will enjoy this "Ecstasy of Prayer."

WEG Open Program Meeting Monday, November 17

Eve Jochnowitz, also known as the "Chocolate Lady," will be the featured speaker at the Women's Evening Group's open program meeting at 7:30 P.M. on Monday, November 17. A performance artist and pastry chef, Ms. Jochnowitz has written and lectured extensively on the relationship of food to tradition, memory and ritual.

Her topic for the WEG program, to be supported by a slide presentation, will be: "The relationship between Jewish cooking and Poland." Ms. Jochnowitz has presented this topic in conferences at the Jewish Theological Seminary and at Oxford University.

A graduate of New York University with an M.A. in performance studies, Ms. Jochnowitz did her undergraduate work at Barnard College in physics. She is fluent in Chinese, Yiddish and Italian. In addition, she is a graduate of Peter Kump's New York Cooking School and the National Gourmet Cookery School.

She presently teaches and researches the food and customs of pre-World War II Europe for Living Traditions KlezKamp.

As the "Chocolate Lady," she has created elegant and healthy desserts for specialty clients, including Dean & DeLuca, the New York Shakespeare Festival and the Cosby Show.

WEG welcomes everyone to what promises to be a very special program event.

The Sisterhood Jewish Book Month Program Tuesday, November 18

In honor of Jewish Book Month, Sisterhood is pleased to announce that Pat Davidson, who coordinates the Jewish Book Discussion Group for the Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies, will deliver a special book review for Sisterhood at its Tuesday, November 18th program meeting. She will discuss a new book by Jonathan Kaufman entitled, A Hole in the Heart of the World.

This book is about being Jewish in Eastern Europe today through the experiences of several families who returned to their pre-World War II countries for various reasons. It is about how they, their children and their grandchildren fared. While some left their country, others left their religion. However, it is interesting that most, in spite of everything, were able to strengthen their religious ties. How were they able to do so? That is one of the interesting questions answered by the book.

Come hear her discussion and review. The program will begin at 1 P.M. and will be followed by the usual Sisterhood coffee hour.

November Activities of the Parents' Association of the Mazer School of Religious Studies

The Parents' Association of the Mazer School of Religious Studies has many exciting activities planned for November. Rabbi Stern once again has graciously agreed to conduct three sessions this fall on Jewish Survival Skills. Come and join him for one or all of these meetings scheduled for Wednesday, October 29, Thursday, November 13 and Wednesday, December 3 from 5 to 5:45 P.M. to learn everything from accepting an aliyah to the meaning of zimriya! This is a unique opportunity to experience the wonders of the synagogue firsthand and to satisfy your curiosity by questioning him about any Jewish matters that you have been pondering.

Our planning meetings held in September resulted in a plethora of great ideas. Class parents, parents who are already involved in future projects and those parents who would like to volunteer in any way, large or small, should meet with us on November 5

A Message From the Jewish Theological Seminary

The Millennium is Coming You Want to Make Something of it?

"Time isn't handed to us with significance built in. What we have instead is a partnership—God gives us time, and it's up to us to give it meaning. So we in our communities, and sometimes in our solitude, have learned how to make some of our days holy."

Here are some holy fragments of time:

- The Sabbath
- Ten years in love, despite everything
- The moment when a congregation stands in a silence pierced by the sound of the shofar
- The hours when a jury struggles through to justice
- One year clean and sober
- The day you get that diploma
- The moment of choice when you weigh right and wrong, and do right

You can make something of the millennium, or of any day, if you choose to. That's what you're here for, isn't it? Not to wait in hope or dread, at daybreak on some particular day, for something or someone to come from outside and change your life.

You're here to use your God-given gift to infuse that ordinary day with meaning. Whatever day it is."

MAKE NOVEMBER 16, 1997 MITZVAH SUNDAY III ONE OF THOSE DAYS!

Masorti Movement

We have all become aware of the Masorti Movement through the unfortunate incidents at the Western Wall on Shavuot and Tisha B'Av. But Masorti is not just about a struggle for religious recognition and religious pluralism in Israel. It is an ongoing story of small, but thriving congregations committed to serving their communities with unique programs and a special enthusiasm.

Here are few important stories that don't get headlines.

The Masorti Movement is thousands of children in dozens of cities throughout Israel. Nearly all of the 50 synagogue centers (kehilot) which comprise the Masorti Movement conduct day care, kindergarten and summer day camp programs which provide strong Jewish educational content to young children.

The kaytana (summer day camp) in Netanya, on the north central Mediterranean coast, is comprised entirely of youngsters from the former Soviet Union who form their Jewish identity as they learn about their new lives in Israel. The kaytana in Omer, in the desert in the south, accents Jewish ceremonial objects for arts and crafts projects. Kaytana groups in Ashkelon, on the south central Mediterranean coast, compete enthusiastically with one another singing Hebrew folk songs from the Bible. They come from a half dozen nations, so the songs help form a new shared culture and identity.

The Masorti Movement's Bar/Bat Mitzvah program for Children With Special Needs takes place in schools and residential facilities around the country. Children with special needs, often overlooked in the overall religious educational system, are able to learn about mitzvot and b'rachot through the Masorti program and participate in bar/bat mitzvah ceremonies in their facilities or in congregations. (A brief, touching video of one such ceremony is available through Rabbi Stern's office.)

MELAMED SINGLES PROGRAM (for singles 25 to 49)

Wednesday, November 19

7:15 P.M.

Cost: $25. Please call 369-2600
for additional information or to make your reservation.

Judaica Classics Gift Shop (at 125 East 85th Street)

The gift shop carries a full line of items of traditional Jewish significance: Shabbat candlesticks, challah boards, knives and covers, kiddush cups and mezzuzot, as well as a full line of giftware and beautiful lithographs, papercuts and other artwork. And it would be happy to accommodate special requests if at all possible.

Remember, if you make a purchase there, mention that you are from Park Avenue Synagogue and our synagogue will benefit from your purchase!

The Park Avenue Synagogue Employment Bank

With Pride and Congratulations

We take pride in Joan Lefkowitz, who, as a guest of the Los Angeles Patent Library, recently delivered a lecture on "Marketing Accessory Inventions" and, in February, 1998, will be a judge in "The National Great Product Search" sponsored by Inventors Workshop International.

We take pride in Dr. Sara Abramson Squire, who was recently elected to a two-year term as president-elect and then president of the New York Roentgen Society, the second oldest radiological society in the country. Dr. Abramson is also an associate professor at Memorial Sloan-Kettering and the Cornell University School of Medicine.

We congratulate Enid and Randall Ringer upon the birth of their daughter, Alexa Batsheva Ringer.

Lunch & Learn Sessions Thursdays at 12 Noon
